

IN AMERICA

memories of perhaps these very
in a real village.

Kent and Addison on Torts; fee anywhere
from $1 to $5.

THE LITTLE RED SCHOOLHOUSE. Not red, but gray. Everything's gray in the country these days.

JUST BOSSY, who isn't accustomed to having her picture taken.

A HALT AT THE OASIS. Nothing to do after supper, following a day in the field, but milk sixteen cows. Pa and the hands have that to worry about.

"Wipe your feet before entering!"

chorus girls of the farm, Johnny.

CANNING BOSSY'S WINTER FOOD. The silo is the modern improvement on the exasperatingly frozen stack of corn stalks.

OFF TO THE CREAMERY,
where even the
farmer's butter
is made.
